

[NOW IN ATLANTA]

DOING GOODS

PRETTY IN PINK

A shopping spree gets a charitable upgrade with these stylish breast cancer research-benefiting finds.

—Jennifer Bradley Franklin

Pink python clutch, $1,295 with 20 percent going to breast cancer research, by Mel Boteri at Atlanta-based shop.melboteri.com

Tassel earrings, $162 with 15 percent going to breast cancer research, by Mickey Lynn at Huff Harrington Home, 102 W. Paces Ferry Road NW, huffharrington.com

Intral Redness relief soothing serum, $88 with $10 going to breast cancer research, by Darphin, an Estée Lauder Company, at Woo Skincare and Cosmetics, 2339 Peachtree Road NE, wooskincareandcosmetics.com

Pretty pink Ribbon lip gloss collection, $60 with $12 going to breast cancer research, by Bobbi Brown, an Estée Lauder Company, at Bluemercury, 37 W. Paces Ferry Road NE, bluemercury.com

Pink linen club chair, $1,550 with 30 percent going to breast cancer research, at Atlanta-based Ivy & Vine, ivyandvine.com

BOOK LOOK

Classic Influences

Architectural designer and historian Norman Davenport Askins has been lauded for his aesthetic prowess since he established his Atlanta practice in 1977. Following his Hofwyl-Broadfield Plantation preservation and Herndon

Home restoration projects, owners of Atlanta's most stately properties could not wait to tap the self-proclaimed "closet classicist" to work his neoclassical English, French, Italian and Mediterranean Revival-inspired magic on their homes. Inspired by Tradition: The Architecture of Norman Davenport Askins ($40, Monacelli Press), out Oct. 14, showcases the grandeur and lavish detail of the interiors and landscapes of 15 such homes—including many that are located in Atlanta's prominent Buckhead demesne. monacellipress.com —Nikki Igbo

PEDAL PUSHERS
The sleek new studio at Cyc Fitness

FIT BIT

In Cyc

The latest toning trend, Cyc Fitness, opens its doors at The Forum Athletic Club — Buckhead this fall with a 50-bike, 2,000-square-foot studio. Trainer and athlete Keoni Hudoba created the method, already lauded in New York City and Austin, as a 45-minute full-body workout with 20-plus weighted sports moves in a nightclub-like atmosphere complete with colored lights and music that will inspire you to feel the burn. $25 per class, 3393 Peachtree Road NE, cycfitness.com —CC