

MY CITY

Booth's Atlanta

During her tenure as artistic director, Susan V. Booth has helped the Alliance Theatre (alliancetheatre.org) earn a Regional Theatre Tony Award and scored Atlanta the exclusive world premiere of John Mellencamp and Stephen King's Ghost Brothers of Darkland County. This month, the theater powerhouse gives us insight into her favorite things to do in our city. —Jennifer Bradley Franklin

Buy a Dress
Bloomingdale's at Lenox Square Mall "Anywhere that sells Tadashi Shoji sheath dresses has my business. Bloomie's at Lenox has a fantastic woman who specializes in them and just makes your day." 3394 Peachtree Road NE, 404.495.2800, bloomingdales.com

Entertain Out-of-Town Guests
Woodfire Grill
"Nick [Quinones] and company treat us all like rock stars." 1782 Cheshire Bridge Road, 404.347.9055, woodfiregrill.com

Have a Cocktail
Table 1280 "I'm a wine girl, and their list is pretty darn good. It's also some of the best people-watching in town." 1280 Peachtree St. NE, 404.897.1280, table1280.com

Casual Dinner With Friends
Abattoir "My husband, Max (my best friend), and I are big fans. We share the charcuterie, veggie sampler and cheese board, and go home happy every time. A fair amount of a big red wine doesn't hurt, either." 1170 Howell Mill Road, 404.892.3335, starprovisions.com

Listen to Live Music
Eddie's Attic "Great food, perfect spot to hear music, and a crowd you feel cool to be a part of." 515-B N. McDonough St., Decatur, 404.377.4976, eddiesattic.com

BEAUTY BUZZ

Madame Butterfly

Spreading its wings nationally this month is Hanae Mori Eau De Collection N° 6, the perfume purveyor's latest limited-edition fragrance in its popular collection series. Honoring and reflecting the graceful transformation of a butterfly, this olfactory ode to nature, made in France, with partial power from alternative energy sources (all hail the wind and sun!), boasts a bouquet bursting with fruity, floral and musky notes. Much like a butterfly reveals her wings, layers of jasmine neroli, bergamot, peony, heliotrope, orange blossom, vanilla, toffee, sandalwood and other intoxicating scents slowly unfold. Further nodding to nature, Hanae Mori will donate part of the proceeds from U.S. sales to environmental org Clean Air-Cool Planet. 3.4 oz., $95, Bloomingdale's and Nordstrom —Beth Weitzman
